You can create your future.

You can create your destiny.

And that today you will open the gates to unlock that hidden and unlimited potential within you and overflow wealth in all aspects of your life.

INTRODUCTION

Friend,

To be honest with you, it was not easy right after I quit my job.

I was everywhere doing everything but coming up with nothing.

I jumped right into lots of business opportunities, but still cannot get that break.

More so, the whole team was into this great business model and they were really earning very big - one reached 3M, my best friend got 800k, and me - nowhere!

We started the business together, read the same books, learned from the same mentors, attended the same seminars, but I was far behind?

All fingers are pointed at me, "What's wrong with me???"

Not until about 3 months ago, when I finally saw the missing link and put everything into place, that's when my income skyrocketed.

Finally, I have unleashed my power to create wealth.

Good news is, that missing link is all here - in the Millionaire Mind.

They have done it, I am doing it, and so can you.

See you at the top.

Hanz

Change is an inside job.

THE TRUTH ABOUT MONEY EXPOSED

It's all about the way you look at money!

It has always been that way.

If you see money as a friend - oh, it will be friendly to you.

But If you see it as something that breaks family - it can and it will.

If you see it only to be available in other countries - you will see it there.

If you see that you don't deserve money because you have a troubled past - then you don't deserve it!

If you see money as something only rich people have, and if you believe that you are not rich - you will never have it.

If you see money as the root of all evil - corruption, poverty, and the like - then you will stay away from it.

If you see it coming only during the 15th and 30th - then it will only come on those days. (ouch!)

If you see it as something that's very hard to find - oh it will be one. (another ouch!)

If you don't see it in opportunities - you will not see it anywhere! (super ouch!)

However,

If you see money as an abundant blessing lying around anywhere waiting for you - then it will be there excited to be taken by you.

If you see money as something that plays an important role in your family and relationships - strengthens your family, brings you more fun and enjoyment, brings you peace of mind - then surely it will act according to the way you want it.

If you see money everywhere and very easy to find - lo and behold!

If you see money overflowing here in the Philippines - you don't have to go far.

If you see money coming to you not just on the 15th and 30th but every day, then it will come to you - everyday!

Friends, if you want money to act in a certain way to your life - if you want it to bless you, and bring great things to your life - it all starts with the way you see it. Your belief in it.

For the past months, I have been so blessed abundantly! Overflowing!
(I just claimed another check while writing this post...God is Good!)

And looking back to where these all began, it started with one bold inner change - change of mindset. I simply changed the way I look at money.

Oh, it's not easy, and that's why I'm here. This time, in the next couple of series, let me share to you exactly how I changed. Let me bring you the timeless secrets about wealth and open up your millionaire mind.

HOW YOU SHOULD SEE MONEY LIKE BILL GATES DO

As you have read in the previous chapter, how money will interact your life will depend on how you see money. So how are we going to "change the way you see money"?

Well, it all begins in the mind.

Our mind is like those cool fancy shades nowadays that has color temperature on it. If you want to see everything in cool light color - then it brings in a shade of blue. If you want a warmer feel, then the shades has a color of red or orange to make everything look hot.

You see? You are looking at the - object the same object - but with just a switch of shades, you can see things entirely different.

That's the same with our mind. You see things - especially money - depending on how you were programmed to see them.

Imagine for one day you can see the world as Bill Gates do? Abundant!
Or see the world as Donald Trump do? Everything is an investment.
How about see the world as your "Boss" do? There's fire, lots of them.
Or see the world as Spongebob do? Then everything doesn't make sense.

Now, Hanz, tell me, how are we going to change that?

Let me bring you to Psychology 101 - Child Development.

When we were born mind was like an empty slate - blank. But every experience we have day by day are being registered into our mind and one by one that empty slate is being filled. Those experiences then becomes the major components on how are going to look at everything in life.

Unfortunately, with regards to money, the following example is a common experience.

Imagine a child so cute and innocent will be experiencing these things for the first 5 years of his/her life:

6:00 - Radio baffles how the economy is so bad and the world is not a safe place to live in anymore

7:00 - Mom and Dad arguing for the unpaid bills

9:00 - Child watches Tom and Jerry (Violence)

10:00 - Child watches Spongebob (Educational?)

12:00 - Child watches TV show were you are given money if you're life sucks and you are poor

1:00 - Child sleeps but wakes up with weewee but no helper because she's out there tsismis with other helpers

3:00 - Child started drawing but stops cause friends says its ugly

4:00 - Child sings songs but stops cause mom thinks he's too noisy

6:00 - Dad comes home stressed and upset

7:00 - Child wants to play with Dad but dad watches basketball

8:00 - Child goes to sleep but cant for Mom and Dad is screaming over money

Sounds familiar?

Imagine the programming that child will have for the next 5 years?

(I'll give you a moment to try to recall how your childhood programming about money was. Another "Aha! Moment". No wonder....)

Well, honestly, I too experienced quite the same ride. It was quite a tough ride. Even to a point of literally hating money - why?

My parents almost separated because of our huge debts.

Don't worry we are not alone! Most rich people had the same childhood programming as ours - Oprah Winfrey, Liz Murray, Zig Ziglar, Andrew Carnegie, and Henry Sy.

Well they did it, and so I changed the way they changed it too.

How?

I reprogrammed my mind.

I simply got rid of those old glasses and wore in a new one - the millionaire mind.

And oh boy, how abundant life has become!

Read on, and I'll show you the millionaire mind.

7 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BE RICH

Recently, discussed all about how one should change the way he sees money and look at it like Bill Gates do. But how? Well, looking at these powerful reasons why you should be rich should answer that question.

1. Money Brings Peace of Mind

Some call it financial freedom - but for me, I call it peace of mind. That's basically what financial freedom can do. Imagine this:

You are somewhere in the Caribbean with your family on a vacation sitting gladly in a hammock. Worry free about all the expenses - especially the para-glide your sons wants and the spa massage your wife asks - because you have more than enough. You open your laptop to update and see how smooth the business is running because you have a fully trusted team working for you. Then you sell your stocks and shares here and there. Then check on the FB pictures your father uploaded while on their Pilgrimage to Holy Land. Your then wired Php 150,000 - 100k to your best friend who asked you as his investor in his newly opened business and 50k to your cousin who got in an accident. And then you close your laptop, sip the coconut juice, and gladly read the Gratitude Card of the 4 students who just graduated college being your scholars.

Well, I guess this is enough reason why you should be rich!

2. Money can Help You Reach Your Dreams

All of us have dreams.

Young or old, we all have one!

The personal dreams, the mansion, the car, the business, the big investments, the renovated chapel, the eye surgery for your mother, the best university for your kids, the trip around the world, or even just a simple TV.

This reminds me of the husband of my manager before. He has this huge home theater at their house, it he has this enormous collections of DVD's. When I was there, I was kidding around, "Can I borrow a DVD? I brought my library card!"

Then we learned that when his husband was still a kid, he used to climb on top of their roof at night just to watch TV through their neighbor's window.

3. Money Can Help Build Great Relationships

How can you have a good relationship when you quarrel every night with your spouse about the debts and the bills?

Your daughter is upset because you can't buy her that silly white dress for her graduation.

Your eldest must stop studying for a year.

You can't go back to your home town because you owe money to 98% of the population there.

You don't want your ageing parents to stay with you because you do not have enough to support them aside from your family.

Then comes the voice that haunts you, "If only... I have money."

4. Money Can Make You Live Life in World Class

Okay, this is too cliché but this cuts right through the point.

We only have one shot at life - only one life to live - and there's no reason to live it "ordinarily"! If you can live it world class -and there's just tons of opportunity to live like one - why not live one?

World class experience.

World class food.

World class travel.

World class businesses.

World class life.

5. Money Can Help People

How many times have you said "not now" from one relative of yours asking for support, "Our youngest is in the hospital right now. Even a 500 would do."?

How many times have you said "Oh, don't worry, I'll just contact you" to a friend who's willing to borrow money at 15% interest for the tuition fee and you won't really bother to call back?

How many times have you said "Next year, I will support you" to representatives of the local charities?

How many times have you shooed away kids who are caroling during Christmas?

Well, I did, countless times.

And it hurt.

But I promise myself, I will never do that again.

6. Money Can Bless the World

Why just help only one when you can help 2 or 3 or 4 or 5?

Why just help students finish schooling when you can let them borrow investments for their businesses?

Your personal success story will surely bless people, but why just share it to one or to a group when you can write a book about it and deliver your message to more people?

Why just help one community with your medical mission when you can help more and even those farther and needs more medical attention?

You know you are a great cook, and you are very much willing to share your talent, but why just pass on the skill to one apprentice when you can build a school?

Money enlarges your territory, and when you enlarge yours you will have a bigger scope and bigger opportunity to bless more people.

7. Because God Wants You to be Rich

Let me end with this simple yet powerful idea through these verses:

This is God's plan for you...

For I know the plans I have for you," declares the LORD, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future. - Jeremiah 29:11

And yes, God wants you to enjoy your wealth too...

If God gives a man wealth and property and lets him enjoy them, he should be grateful and enjoy what he has worked for. It is a gift from God. - Ecclesiastes 5:19

And in my own words,

"If You believe that Your Father in heaven is rich beyond imagination, remember that you are His child, and if your Father is rich. So are you."

YOU ARE DESTINED TO BE RICH

There are only 2 reasons - BIG reasons - why I can tell you that you are destined to be rich!

Are you ready?

Here they are.

Number 1

You are born with the RAW TALENTS that you need to become rich!

What is the difference between you and other rich people when you were born?

When you came out of this world, we and the same with the most successful people in the world were born with the same number of hands and feet, a pair of eyes and ears. We cried the same cry with all the yuck around our bodies. The same reflexes, the same twitching, the same smile. Okay, maybe I was cuter - but yes, we are all the same.

But why today, some succeeded and become truly wealthy - while most of us have financial status below sea level?

"Yah, but some of them are born in a silver platter?"

"Huh?"

"What I mean , they all have rich families!"

Hey, don't forget the many millionaires, even billionaires, who were born poor - you should read their stories!

But the big difference is they worked on their RAW talents.

And let me emphasize on the word - RAW.

All our talents when we were born were RAW, and we have one great lifetime to PROCESS it. The product is SUCCESS and I tell you, the by-product is MONEY.

Discover your talents and work on them! Process them! That's the key!

Well, good thing is, that talent of yours is unique. No one else can be the best of it, if some else will then you might as well - disappear! God won't create something that's of no use.

But that's not just it - there's one more thing you need and that's the second reason why you are destined to be rich.

Number 2
Everything else is provided for you to become rich!

Yes, you have no excuse!

The world is abundant!

Even the things you need to develop those RAW talents is provided here!

So you want to become a millionaire?

Look around you - the right people, the mentor, the tools, vehicles, business idea, your team, investor, inspiration, the opportunity - they are all there waiting for you to grab them.

With your RAW talent and everything else - like what I said - there are no excuses why you cannot become rich!

PS.

One example of how everything you need to become rich is simply within your reach - take a look at this article - this eBook- this simple eBook carefully written by a handsome author. =D

PRACTICE! PRACTICE! PRACTICE!

When we were young we used to dream of becoming a superstar, right?

Sensational Singer

Best Actor or Actress

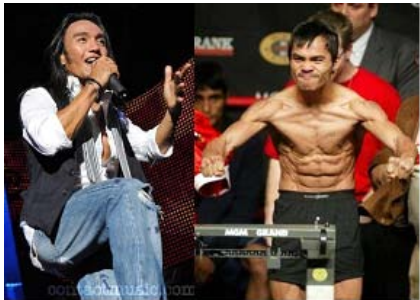

Greatest Basketball Star

Kick-ass Rock Guitarist

Fireman

Farmer

Fisherman

And with this fiery dreams, what do we usually do next?

We get idols and imitate them! We get their huge posters and post them on our walls and declare, "Someday, I will be like YOU!"

Then we get into their lives. We imitate their moves - especially their signature styles. We imitate their fashion, the way they talk, and the way they carry themselves. Yes, those times in front of the mirror!

And then, we practice! We practice every day!

Remember in school, where do we find ourselves during snack break, lunch break and dismissal? Gym! Playing ball.

Remember how crazy we memorize each and every songs of our favorite singer? And how the shower become our concert arena? Morning, day, and night!?

And then we act our every scene of our actors new movie?

Did you know that great artistic portfolios began at the back of our notebooks?

Friends, it is just the same, if we want to become millionaires - we must practice to be one.

All success books especially those that uncover the secrets of becoming rich simply states that the very first thing you should do to become a millionaire is to - THINK AND ACT LIKE A MILLIONAIRE.

And in our case, that's simply imitating that kind of determination we have in reaching those personalities we dreamed of as a child!

PRACTICE! PRACTICE! PRACTICE!

How?

First, we get pictures of things millionaires achieve, similar to those we want and post it on our wall and declare, "I can have everything I want!!!"

So instead of putting up big rock star or idol posters in your room, put up instead your dream board.

Then we dress the way they dress, move the way they move, and act the way they act. So we increase our self-esteem, correct our postures, and move with grace and dignity.

We read their stories, and get into their minds. Know their lives, and their strategies. Learn their signature moves -how they sell, how they invest and use their money, how they build businesses and empires, and how they become experts in their niche.

That's it!

And so friend, if you want to become a millionaire, you better start practicing now!

HOW BIG IS YOUR WALLET?

Let's have a quick recap - just answer the questions with a yes or no.

Game?

Do you now believe that money has always been about the way you see it?

Do you now understand the role of programming our mind has affected the way we take hold of money and accept how great it would be if we would see money the way Bill Gates do?

Do you now have a strong foundation of reasons why you should be rich?

Do you now firmly believe that you are destined to be rich?

Do you now understand that you should start "practicing" being a millionaire?

(Do I sound like a supreme court judge or a priest?)

If you have answered yes, then shall I ask you the next question.

How big is your wallet?

Now, this is one of the trickiest part of forming that millionaire mind. You have already developed a new millionaire mindset and started "practicing" becoming a millionaire - but then again - your money still hasn't grown.

Why?

Because your psychological wallet is not BIG enough.

Joel was a smart and cool fresh graduate and his first job was to work in a salon. He was assigned in the manicure department and was earning a flashy salary of 10,000 per month. Not bad, eh?

Being new in the real world, Joel kept his 10,000 very well as he budget it wisely for himself and his family.

Because of his dedication to his work matched with his creativity in sculpting designs in the nails of his customers he had a salary increased and it went into a whopping 18,000 per month.

However, in the next couple of months, Joel was really bothered and kept on wondering why is that now that he has an increase in salary - he still has literally no money.

The answer.

Joel has not yet increased his psychological wallet.

Because he was so attuned to spending the 10,000 per month, the moment his salary increased to 18,000, unconsciously he would be spending uncontrollably because his psychological wallet can only contain the "comfortable" 10,000. And this explains, why he experiences the lack of money.

Friends, this also explains why most lotto winners end up losers in 2-3 of years. Simply because, their psychological wallet still cannot contain 30,000,000! These people are not "trained" and are not ready to take hold of such tremendous amounts of money thus they end of squandering it, being used by people, and back to poverty in a few years time.

If your wallet is not big enough - how can you contain such a big amount of money?

Friend, once again, how big is your psychological wallet?

100,00?

500,00?

1,000,000?

4,000,000?

10,000,000?

Are you literally ready to hold such big amounts of money???

Let's have an exam here.

I want you to carefully imagine that, let's just say, God will test you, and he will deliver $10,000,000.00 cold cash in your bedroom and when you wake up you will have layers and layers of cash on the floor.

Have you imagined it already?

Now. What will you do next?

(Pause for some time, and reflect on the action steps you will take.)

Will you have this line of thoughts?

"Shocks, these are so many! Where shall I put these?"

"Shall I tell my parents? What if my relatives will know? How much shall I give them? Will I give to everybody?"

"Will I go to work now? When will I resign? What will I write on my resignation letter? Surely they'll be envy at me and would hate me if I won't give them"

"No, I shouldn't tell them about this - people will know!"

"Our neighbors might notice and they'll kidnap me! b'wag pooooo "

"Oh no, shall I get a bodyguard now? Or a security guard? Shall I put this on a safe, or in the bank?"

"How much shall I give to the church? 10 percent? Does it really have to be 10 percent? Nah, the priest will just squander this! I'll give them next time."

"How shall I invest this? which will be the best? Stocks? What stocks? Business? What business? Where? Where will I start?"

"What shall I buy first? A car? Will I park it? A condo unit? Which one and where?"

"Do I really deserve this? Is this a dream? What's the catch? Is there some kind of exchange or something?"

"Urgggh... How shall I spend this?"

(Thud! You just fainted.)

Friends, if you can clearly answer these questions right away, then congratulations!

You're $10,000,000 is on its way.

And that's what I mean of having a huge psychological wallet!

THE FIRST STEP TO GROW YOUR MONEY

After all my convincing - with why you should become truly rich and now that you have a bigger psychological wallet - now let's take action!

The first step to literally grow your money is to this is so easy that you will be shocked - electrocuted!

Ready?

Every day, every minute, and every moment - from the time you wake up to the very last second before you shut your eyes to sleep you should...

FEEL GOOD.

Yes, feel good.

Why???

Money only comes to happy people.

Obviously, truly rich people are generally happy people.

"But Hanz, I've seen people who are very poor but are happy!"

Oh yes, I have also seen people who are very rich and unhappy!

Friends, always remember this, happiness is not the result of having lots of money. But instead money is the result - or even just the by-product - of being happy!

Never equate with happiness to money, these are two different things!

If you start making money as the basis of happiness - you won't be getting anywhere.

First let me explain it to you scientifically.

Money is something positive.

When you feel good, what do you think? Positive thoughts.

And if you have positive thoughts, what does your brain transmit to the whole world? Positive energy.

And remember your elementary science days when you play with magnets, what does it say? Like attracts like.

So in other words, if you are exuding positive energies all over the world you are attracting the positive too - money.

I had one experience staying in a home of a middle class and struggling family for a day and after learning this principle, I understood why.

I was talking with the mother and all day long these were our topics:

- 1) How unfair her employers are for not giving her an ounce raise in her salary for the past 6 years
- 2) How she cried last night watching Malala na Kaya (How Worst Could It Get?)
- 3) How 4 of their neighbors were held-up in the last 3 days.
- 4) How do politicians should run the country.
- 5) How her idolized actress got "bombed" by the other network.
- 6) (Whispering mode) How her husband for all these years never managed to get them a car.

And so on...

No wonder.

Unconsciously - unknowingly - they themselves are vibrantly repelling money by proclaiming to the world how their lives are in poverty.

Friends, starting today - make it a point to feel fulfilled - feel good - every waking moment of the day.

How?

By doing good, talking good, watching good, listening good, reading good, eating good, and looking good.

Be happy and money will follow.

THE KEY TO UNLOCK AN TSUNAMI OF MONEY

Let me share to you my story...

I have a confession to make, during my schooling years, I was - let's call it evil. Aside from being an irresistible nerd hunk, I was so driven to always be on top of everybody else and reach that only one top spot.

Here are some of the evil things I usually do back then:

1. I never share assignments - as in never.
2. I do the group projects alone so I will be a martyr and get all the credits.
3. If a classmates ask for help, I teach him the hard way so that he won't understand.
4. If someone pops up trying to steal me that one top spot, I would resort to studying heaven and hell so as to topple her down and regain my one top spot.

Bottom line = competition. And because of competition I developed one mentality - of which I soon discovered to be very toxic - scarcity.

"There's never enough for everybody, I have to keep a lot to myself because there's not enough for you and me. And if I give something to you, you can take away my spot, never! Bwahahahahaha! (Evil laughter)"

This scarcity mentality was pretty much shown in my selfishness. Of which later on, not just in scores but also in a lot of things in life - money, opportunity, fame, food, etc.

That's just the beginning.

When my working career started, I was literally driven to want more. Why?

I wanted money because there's not enough for everyone and if I don't work hard, other people will get the money that I'm supposed to have!

And so I worked hard, saved hard.

Worked even harder. Save! Save! Save!

"Hurry Hanz, you might run out of money - the economy is bad, government is corrupt, money is very hard to find, so you have to work harder this time. Start a business now! (That's the time I began to smuggle peanuts at work). Study to become rich! (That's also the time I worked on to become rich - at work)."

And so I went on my journey to become rich and I studied the rich people - studied the way like magna cum laude's do -to cut the long story short I then quit my job.

Five months forward, no huge steady income yet and my last pay was exhausted to the last drop.

"Hanz, work harder! You need to be a millionaire! You need to be on that one top spot because MONEY IS RUNNING OUT!"

It's when times like this, that proud men like myself go to the last resort - the BIG guy up there.

One day, while I was serving at the FEAST - it's the community gathering of the Spiritual Family of Bro. Bo Sanchez, the Light of Jesus - as the "Pindot (Push Button) Manager" (the corporate term for the PowerPoint in-charge) we are about to learn the very strategy for one person to receive a tsunami of blessings.

"Finally, thank you Lord, this is the answer to my prayer!"

But my joy was short lived, why? This was the secret:

In order for you to receive something - you must give it away first. For example, if you want money, you have to give away that money you have right now, so that there will be an empty space to be filled.

"Chicken liver, how am I supposed to do that??? I don't have anything left! I don't even know when will I get another cash!"

But I don't know. Maybe it was because of a sense of desperation. "Maybe this will work, we don't know." So for the first time in my life, the selfish me gave away Php100 as tithe - per week. And gosh, it was painful.

"Money is running out and I'm giving it away!!! Are you crazy Hanz?"

But I moved on. Weeks passed, and money comes, a thousand a week.

A month after back at the Feast, fortunately, we just finished a project and I had more than enough that evening, I was in gratitude gave more than I usually give.

Life continued, and I saw a pattern that my income is coming in a couple of thousands a week. The academic skeptical me - came up with a "correlation experiment." My hypothesis is that, my income is positively correlated to my tithe. (I guess, schooling has some contribution to real life after all!)

And so I increased my tithe again.

A thousand every other day.

And again.

A thousand daily.

And counting...

And so when I tried to come up with my "analysis", I came into a "conclusion" that it was not my income that got bigger...it was me. I became bigger. My life became bigger. The action of giving big for a cause - tithe, charity, helping someone in need - is deeply rooted with a belief that there is more than enough. When you give big amounts, at the back of your head, it says that, "Hey, give all you've got, there's plenty all over lying around!"

And when I finally understood that very principle - In order for you to receive something - you must give it away first - I ventured on to another experiment. How about, let's try it not just with money...

I started giving other money making opportunities and ideas- yes, I know, that it I will lose one big idea and other people will benefit from it - but what did I get?

More opportunities for me.

I started helping more people - what did I get?

More people helping me.

I started giving praise and encouragement to people - what did I get?

More praise and encouragement than I ever need.

Friends, looking back at my schooling years, I would cry in regret if only I would have given more to people. Shared my assignments, my notes, and even my scores! If only I have helped more of my classmates, and shared more encouragement to them then I would have a brighter schooling years. I would have had many friends, I would have had a bigger world, and how awesome would it be if all of you are on top - not just me - alone!!

As I end with the Millionaire Mind.

You now realize that it's not about the millions.

This simple book is about the long process of detaching yourself away from the material.

When you begin to believe that everything is abundant, that what you need is just beyond your reach, lying there waiting for you to get them, all you need to do now is to simply act - get up, run towards your dream, jump over challenges, and grab that dream.

When you have the millionaire mind - everything else is provided for.

However, there is one thing you can still do that you can get abundantly more than you want and what you deserve. I found this common in every truly rich millionaire there is. The secret how they MULTIPLY THEIR INCOME is to simply...
